President Says "Put America First" DECLARES MEXICAN BANDIT B

West Point Graduales Are Told United States Wants Nothing From Europe.

USES AMERICANISM FOR FIRST TIME

* Gives Warning Against Militarism and Counsels Unlimited Patriolism.

President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began, today discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Mouroe doctrine, divided allegiance and the ideals of America. He declared It is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding:

"Mankind is going to know that when America apeaks she means what she The president said the United States should not be a blustering nation, a nation with "a chip on its shoulder" but a calm nation which will withhold its hamls as long as possible and strike only for victory.

"Put America First."

Shaking his finger emphatically, the president told the graduates of the military academy and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated. He added, however, that true Americans should set a good example.

The president declared the present war did not come by accident, but that it had to come. The United States wants nothing from Europe, he said, and there is nothing che wants which she must get by war. He sounded a warning that no man can tell what the next day will bring forth in the world's events.

Less "Americantem" for First Time.

Lass "Americanism" for First Time. The word "Americanism was used today by the president for the first lime in recent addresses. He warned the graduates against militarism. The president's speech was frequently interrupted by applause. The text fol-

Days of responsibility are the only days that count in time, because they are the only days that give lest of quality. They are the only days when manhood and purpose is tried out as if by fire.

Not Like Ordinary Graduates. Theed not teil you that you are not like an ordinary graduating class of one of our universities. The men in those classes look forward to the life which they are to lead after graduating the second of the life which they are to lead after graduating the second of the life which they are to lead after graduating the second of the life which they are to lead after graduating the second of the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are to lead after graduating the life which they are the life which the

Some of them do not know what occupation they are going to foliow. All of them are conjecturing what will be the line of dury and advancement and the ultimate goal of success for them.

There is no conjecture for you You have enlisted in something hat does not stop when you leave the academy, for you then only begins to realize it, which then oly begins to be filled with the full richness of its meaning, and you can look forward with absolute certainty to the sort of thing that you will be obliged to do.

Old Days in Army.

This has always been true of graduating classes at West Point, but the oscillative that some of the older classes used to look forward to was a very dull certainty. Some of the old days in the army I fancy were not very interesting days. Some of the old days in the army I fancy were not very interesting days. Some of the old days in the army I fancy were not very interesting days. Some of the old days in the army I fancy were not very interesting days. Some of the old days in the fact of really knowing and understanding the Indians of the western plains, knowing what was going on inside of their minds and being able to be the intermediary between them and those who dealt with them by speaking their sign language, could entire their lives, but the ordinary life of an ordinary officer at a western post could not have been very exciting, and I think with admiration of those dull years through which officers who had not a great deal to do insisted, nevertheless, upon being efficient and worth while and keeping their men fit at any time for the duty to which they were assigned.

"Now in your case there are many possibilities, because gentlemen, no man can to a certainty tell you what the immediate future is going to be either in the history of this country nor in the history of the world. It is not by accident that the present great war came in Europe. Every element was there and the contest had to come sooner or later, and it is not going to be by accident that the results are worked out, but by purpose—by the purpose of the men who are stigning enough to have guiding minds and indemitable wills when the time for decisions and zettlement comes.

Renomination of Vice President By Acclamation Is Discussed; Suffrage Demands and Labor's "Bill of Rights" Promise to Be Convention Problems at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS. Mo., June 12.—Delegates to the Democratic national convention, which opens here at noon tomorrow, appeared to be interested in two questions today. One was whether vice president Marshall would be renominated by acclamation. The other was the probable action of the delay.

Democratic lenders looking forward to the campaign, virtually are in accord that it will be marked with inspiring oratory, a clash of intellects between president Wilson and Mr. Hughes, and will be markedly free from personalities and mud clinging.

None of the Democrats think of benittleing the ability of Hughes as a campaigner. They have not forgotten his campaign in New York, nor his speech in Youngstown, Ohio, in 130%, when he opened the fight for Mr. Taft. To meet Mr. Hughes and the Republican campaigners behind him, they expect to call upon the best of the Democratic party. Whether president Wilson personally will go into the campaign will be decided by the president himself alone, but it is probable that an effort will be made to set him to speak. Mr. Wilson almost certainly will be asked to contribute by some active participation, to offset any advantage the Republicans may main from the speeches of a mun who has been governor of the post potential state as well as justice of the supreme court.

Rethorst, with a detachment of the 13th cavairy, after a forced march, encountered and routed the remnant of the Cervantes band 26 miles northeast of Santa Clara early on the morning of June 2.

Three or more Mexicans were killed and several wounded. No Americans were hurt.

The bandits endeavored to ambush the cavalry early in the morning, but the troops dismounted and took them in the flank. The Mexicans maintained a heavy rifle fire for a few minutes, after which they were forced to flee. The troopers followed up the advantage gained by their superiority of fire so rapidly that the bandits were unable to seath their barges or supplies.

SINALOA MEXICANS MISS AMERICANS, MINER SAYS

The financial support that was once furnished by the Americans who settled in large numbers at Mazatlan, Sinaloa is being missed by the Mexicans and contrary to the reported feeling generally the Mexicans in Sinaloa are friendly, a mining man whose head-quarters are at Mazatlan stated upon his arrival in El Paso yesterday.

The plana at Mazatlan was once filled with Americans who came to have their shoes shined, but now there are no American nickels at the plaza, said the mining man. The state of Simaloa is exceedingly rich and there is quite a lot of development going on in the vicinity of Mazatlan.

The visitor stated he had slept out in the hills among the Indians and Mexicans without any harm coming to him. He said he had carried a gun for two years in that neighborhood and had not shot it once.

Officials have been unable to determine the inspiration behind the sudden outbrenk of antl-American feeling, or to estimate the ability of Gen. Carranza to protect American lives and property. They feel that the real dange, lies in the possible action of irregular forces now under the Carranza banner, but whose commanders are of doubtful allegiance to the central government.
